

Fire Fighting Team Trainer

A one-day workshop from Fremont Maritime that picks up where your onboard training leaves off.

Onboard training, even at its most robust, is limited by the inability of participants to perform and be assessed under live fire conditions. Now, Fremont Maritime's Fire Fighting Team Trainer allows your crews to build upon their previous training foundation by spending a day responding to multiple live fires in a realistic, yet safe learning environment.

Working aboard the M/V Fire Dragon, Fremont's purpose-built marine fire training mock-up, your fire team will work together to:

- Fight multiple engine room, galley, and living space fires;
- Conduct search and rescue operations;
- Practice command, control, and communication skills;
- Gain confidence in their gear, their leadership, and themselves.

This team trainer is designed specifically for visiting cruise ships calling in Seattle. We not only provide the training, but take care of the transportation and meal logistics, as well. We pick your crew up shortly after customs clearance, and deliver them back to the vessel in time for sailing. We coordinate closely with your officers and safety personnel to provide a custom training experience consistent with your company's equipment, policies, and procedures.
